Ferrari SF90 Spider - 07/2024

Exterior:

The 2024 Ferrari SF90 Spider is a plug-in hybrid supercar featuring a retractable hardtop that folds in just 14 seconds, even while in motion. Its sculpted design integrates aerodynamic elements such as the active “shut-off Gurney” rear spoiler. The car comes with matrix LED headlights and 20-inch forged aluminum wheels, emphasizing its aggressive and purposeful stance.

Performance and Efficiency:

At its heart, the SF90 Spider is powered by a 4.0-liter twin-turbo V8 engine producing 780 hp, paired with three electric motors. Together, they generate a total output of 986 horsepower, channeled through an all-wheel-drive system. The plug-in hybrid drivetrain includes a 7.9 kWh battery enabling up to 25 km of electric-only driving. It accelerates from 0 to 100 km/h in just 2.5 seconds and supports four eManettino modes: eDrive, Hybrid, Performance, and Qualify.

Interior and Features:

Inside, the SF90 Spider offers an immersive cockpit with leather seats, electric seat adjustment, and high-grade carbon fiber accents. Technology highlights include a car navigation system with memory, Display Audio with Apple CarPlay and Android Auto, ETC, and full multimedia connectivity. Comfort is enhanced by automatic air conditioning and coolers, smart key, and power windows.

Technology and Safety:

The SF90 Spider integrates a full suite of advanced systems: ABS, power steering, cruise control, skid prevention device, adaptive headlights, obstacle sensors, idling stop, and a vehicle anti-theft system. Safety is reinforced with airbags (driver/passenger), keyless entry, and driver aids that maintain precision and control under extreme performance conditions.
