Nissan Serena 2.0 XV - 03/2022

General Overview:

The 2022 Nissan Serena 2.0 XV is a practical and spacious minivan designed for families and group travel. Finished in a sleek gray exterior, this model combines functionality with everyday driving comfort.

Performance and Efficiency:

Powered by a 2.0-liter gasoline engine, the Serena XV delivers smooth and efficient performance suited for city commutes and long-distance travel alike. Paired with an automatic transmission, it ensures an easy driving experience with steady acceleration and dependable fuel economy.

Interior and Features:

The Serena's interior is designed for comfort and flexibility, offering three rows of seating with ample space for passengers and luggage. Dual sliding doors make entry and exit convenient, especially in tight urban settings. Power windows (PW), power steering (PS), and air conditioning (AC) come standard to enhance everyday comfort.

Safety and Driving Assistance:

Equipped with anti-lock braking system (ABS) and front airbags, the Serena provides basic safety assurance. The XV trim also includes electronic power steering for better control and maneuverability, especially useful in urban environments.

Exterior Design:

In gray, the Serena presents a clean, modern look with a focus on functionality. Its tall roofline and large windows not only add to its aesthetic but also improve visibility and interior airiness. It's a family-first vehicle with a purpose-driven design, ideal for practical use.
